

ORGANIZATIONS

L'AMICALE FRANCAISE

A6 is a long way from France, but if one has ever attended a French Club meeting with its 240 members, one knows that the French Club does much to bring them to a better understanding of France and its people by showing moving pictures, presenting talks, singing songs, and giving plays. 1935-36 club officers were president, Jack McBride; secretary-treasurer, Betty Fitzgerald; sergeant-at-arms, Morgan Noble.

Two meetings of the year were outstanding. On December 6, Miss Heggie's eight o'clock class gave a Christmas play in which the leading roles were taken by Jerry Aikawa, Dorothy Breitweiser, Doris Guernsey, Elizabeth Harper, Tom Hodgkins, Toaru Ischiyana, Arthur Iwatha, Alice Phelps, Hilton Watters, Donald MacAllister, and Patricia McNamara. On March 20 a Guignol play was given under the direction of Miss Lukes. Outstanding in making this program a success were Jeanne Marie Marblestone, Abel de Haan, Jack Whipple, and Pearl Sweet. Members of the French Club owe a great deal of thanks to Miss Lukes and Miss Heggie for their kind assistance in directing both the programs and the spirit of "L'Amicale Francaise".

GERMAN CLUB

AGAIN this year the German Club, sponsored by Miss Ellen De Ruchie, has proven to be one of Stockton High's most active organizations. Before the student body it has presented stunts to advertise the Stockton-Lodi football game last fall and the Sports Carnival this spring. The club's success has been shown by its ability to present a scholarship of $50 as a gift to some member each year.

Outstanding speakers of the year were Mr. Carl Beyers, representative of a German railroad, who spoke on the Olympic games of 1936; and Miss Ida C. Green, who described her recent trip to Deutschland. Through the courtesy of the Hamburg-American lines, two educational movies on Das Vaterland were shown. Two of the annual events were the Christmas party, which featured an amateur contest this year, and a picnic at Oak Park in May. Officers for the whole year were the following: president, Henry Temme; vice-president, Douglas Powell; secretary, Joan Meyers.

ITALIAN CLUB

ALTHOUGH the Italian Club is only in its eighth year, it has become one of the outstanding clubs of the school. Under the able guidance of L. J. Vannuccini, faculty advisor, the membership has increased from a small handful to approximately one hundred and sixty students. Several prominent speakers have addressed the students in the regular monthly meetings. Dr. Craviotto presented the subject of Italian literature, and Dr. Rosasco spoke on vivisection. Mr. Vannuccini also gave a talk on Italian literature.

To augment interest in the study of the Italian language, the club has a $100 scholarship offered to a student who has taken three or more years of Italian and plans for further study of the language. In the past few years the Italian Government has been awarding gold, silver, and bronze medals to the three most outstanding students in each Italian class.

Officers for the 1935-36 term were as follows: president, Walter Alladio; vice-president, Dorothy Braghetta; secretary, Eva Garibaldi; sergeant-at-arms, Dorothy Risso and Alecy Bava.

LATIN CLUB

THE Latin Club, or Conventus Latinus, has had a highly successful year under its sponsor, Miss Lillian Williams, assisted by R. C. Hofmeister, and the following officers: Geno Neri, president; Richard Fleming, vice-president; Margaret Gallagher, secretary-treasurer; and Robert Tout, sergeant-at-arms.

Programs for the monthly meetings have consisted of plays and talks, most of them presented by students. Two types of plays have been given: one, an historical play designed to increase the student's Latin background for the period in which Latin was a

1. Ping Pong
2. Mr. Kerr's "Curs"
3. The Battle of "Will It Run"

4. Girls of Miss Rinset's Adviser
5. Cast of "It Never Rains"
6. Guardian Sentinel

7. Social Service Girls

spoken language; and the other, a grammatical type of play which showed vividly such stumbling blocks in the Latin student's path as irregular verbs, declensions, and other confusing parts of speech.

Three of the best meetings and their respective programs included the October meeting, at which Miss Anderson spoke on "Roman Ruins in Spain"; March, at which a novel program honoring Caesar was presented; and April, at which Nat Brown told of his European trip. The club participated at the Sports Carnival by selling punch.

SPANISH CLUB

THE Spanish Club has completed a very successful year. In the fall the float representing a bullfight with Lodi as the bull and Stockton as the matador, which this club prepared for the Lodi football rally, received first prize. The club also had a booth at the Sports Carnival, the profits of which went toward the scholarship that the club gives every year to some student who is going to major in a foreign language at college.

The club meetings have all been interesting. In October Miss Selna showed moving pictures which she took while she was in Spain last year. In November Mr. Reiman showed colored films taken in Mexico. In January an amateur hour was staged, at which George Comaskey, who played an accordion, won first prize. At other meetings many interesting skits and musical numbers were put on by students of different classes.

Officers of the club were Jean Crary, president; Velma McIntire, vice-president; Carol Tanaka, secretary-treasurer. Miss Anderson was the sponsor.

CHINESE CLUB

IT SEEMS that when one hears or sees something over and over again, one becomes bored. Realizing this fact, the program committee of the Chinese Club decided to exchange talents with the Japanese Club. Variety added spice to the meetings. Instead of seeing the same faces doing familiar things the members enjoyed the sight of new faces doing new and interesting things, and enthusiasm and interest in the club increased.

As January graduation drew near, plans were made for a social in honor of the graduating seniors. In-coming freshmen were also invited. H. A. Bradley, faculty adviser, and Mrs. Bradley were chaperones. During the spring semester a Chow Mein dinner was given. Also the club took active participation in the Sports Carnival.

At the final meeting of the fall semester Victor Ah Tye, president; King Lee, vice-president; Kenneth Wong, secretary-treasurer turned over their offices to the new officers—Kenneth Wong, Mary Wong, and Mildred Jann.

FILIPINO CLUB

DURING the past year the Filipino Club has had many very interesting programs, and has been very active despite the fact that the membership of the club is quite small. To give the members a chance to acquaint themselves with each other is the expressed purpose of the club.

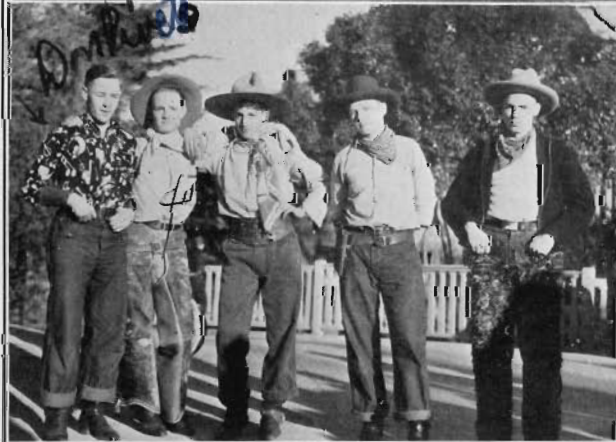

Under the able supervision of Miss Catherine Humbargar, faculty adviser, the club has made real progress and has enjoyed good speakers and entertainments. Interesting slides of the Philippine Islands shown in one of the meetings afforded one of the most entertaining as well as educational programs of the year.

A most unique and clever exhibition that drew the crowd at the Sports Carnival was this club's conception of the large trans-Pacific flying boat, the "China Clipper".

Enocents Godinez as president headed the fall cabinet, assisted by Demetrio Moscoso, vice-president; Roman Adviento, secretary-treasurer; and Joe Beharin, sergeant-at-arms. The spring cabinet was composed of Roman Adviento, president; Demetrio Moscoso, vice-president; Dolores Pasco, secretary-treasurer; and Vincent Villamor, sergeant-at-arms.

JAPANESE CLUB

OF THE seven years that the Japanese Club has been organized, this one has undoubtedly been the most successful, because of the able sponsorship of Miss Eliza-

1 and 4. Dreams don't always come true
2. G. and T. Advisers at Stanford
3. Sports Carnival Day, '35

5. Rooting for Alma Mater
6. Filling Christmas Boxes for Guam
7. Laying the February Class Plate

8. Tsh, Tsh, Such Affection
9. Gimme a horse, a great big horse—
10. Sich Peoples, Ruff Seenyers

both Humbargar and the ability of the cabinet members. The membership has steadily increased, now reaching a total of over 300. The purpose of the club is for the members to become better acquainted with each other as well as with other organizations.

To raise money for a $100.00 scholarship fund and to meet the expenses of the Fourth Annual Northern California High School J. S. C. Conference held in Stockton on April 25 and 26, the club successfully sponsored a Japanese movie, one of the most notable things of the year. The J. S. C. conference itself, with its distinguished speakers, discussion groups, contests, luncheons and a banquet climaxed by a dance, was enjoyed by over 225 out-of-town and local students and was an outstanding success.

To beautify the campus, the club gave six flowering cherry trees to the school. Socials for the year included dance parties for the graduates and tea receptions for the incoming freshmen.

Officers for the fall semester were Takeo Utsumi, president; Satoshi Moriwaki, vice-president; Roy Teshima, secretary; Yoshio Moriwaki, treasurer; Christina Kubota, social chairman; Isami Hagio, historian; Virginia Inouye and Joe Takeshita, sergeants-at-arms; and for the spring semester were Joe Kubota, president; Satoshi Moriwaki, vice-president; Shigetaka Arao, secretary; Joichi Tsushima, treasurer; Dorothy Miyata, social chairman; Isami Hagio, historian; Lois Utsumi and Jack Tsudama, sergeants-at-arms.

The Japanese Government extended an invitation to Miss Elizabeth Humbargar, club sponsor, to make a tour of Japan, Korea, and Manchukuo this summer. Miss Humbargar with fourteen other teachers will leave San Francisco on July 1 and on arriving in the Orient will be shown the most famous and interesting places of this island kingdom and the adjacent mainland.

PAN-PACIFIC CLUB

THE Pan Pacific Club, composed of students who have received a grade of "C" or better in Pan-Pacific history, and who have a substantial merit record, has had a very eventful year. A new system for the meetings was put into effect by the club sponsor, J. W. Kerr, assisted by W. G. Young and the following officers: Bob Ijams, president; and Lois Grable, secretary-treasurer. During 1935-36 the programs have been furnished by the different nationalities of students who belong to the club. Oriental customs, dancing, and fencing have been the high lights of the monthly meetings. At one of the meetings Chinese and Japanese food and tea were served.

In January the fourth annual banquet was held at On Lock Sam's restaurant. After the program, which consisted of native dancing, fencing, and a talk by Harry Chinn of the College of the Pacific, dancing, American style, was enjoyed by all. On Sports Carnival Day, the club sold ice cream in its booth.

TRAVEL CLUB

AT THE second meeting of the newly organized Travel Club, sponsored by Mr. J. William Kerr, a program entitled "What the well-dressed boy and girl will wear on a European tour if limited to one portmanteau and an over-night bag", was presented, with Miss Ida Green speaking on the girls' garb, Mr. Kerr on the boys' and Miss E. DeRuchie on "Going through customs".

With the purpose in mind of teaching the pupils the right way to travel, proper clothes to take, how to secure passports, how to go through customs, the proper attitude toward people of different nations, how to take care of one's health while traveling, and finally of interesting students in foreign nations, motion pictures of various countries, and programs covering various phases of travel were presented before the enthusiastic students.

At present the membership is limited to one hundred, and only to those interested in travel. This summer the club is sponsoring an Olympic Tour, and about twenty students are expected to go. The first officers of the club include Dick Daley, president; Rose Lee Rowe, vice-president; Bill Renwick, corresponding secretary; Duff Chapman, recording secretary; Gong Yut, treasurer; and Stanley Tutton, sergeant-at-arms.

HI-Y CLUB

THE Hi-Y, a well-established boys' club sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. in Stockton High School, has four main principles: clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living. The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. Its main service is to aid the high school in carrying out its projects.

This year two new programs were undertaken. The first of these was a football team; the second, a contest in which Jack Boquist was the first to have his name on the trophy. The club had a basketball team coached by Tom Nesbitt, the Y. M. C. A. sponsor. Other forms of entertainment, such as picnics and dinners, were enjoyed.

Although this year the Hi-Y neared disintegration, the constant efforts of the presidents and officers and the great aid rendered by Tom Nesbitt raised the membership to twenty-one. Officers of the winter class were Don Rivett, president; John Bauman, vice-president; Jack Blinn, secretary; Ben Yost, treasurer; Walt Kendall, sergeant-at-arms. The spring made only two changes in the inner circle. They were John Bauman, president; Jack Erz, vice-president.

TRI-Y CLUB

THE year's activities of the Tri-Y were started with a drive for new members and a mock initiation. In October in order to raise some money, a food sale was held at Black's. In December the girls held a theater party and later in the evening enjoyed refreshments at the home of one of the members.

At the beginning of the February semester the newly elected officers were installed, and a mock initiation was used in October in order to bring into the club six new members. A snow party was planned for March, but by that time snow was so scarce that the girls were forced to forego the trip. For the flood relief three dollars was taken out of the treasury and given to Miss McInnes, who complimented the club for having contributed more than any other group.

A successful progressive dinner was given on April 25. On May 29, Carnival Day, the girls of the club planned a booth for selling a cooling drink. For that same evening were arranged a scavenger hunt, and a dance later at the meeting place. In order to help send a deserving girl to the Camp Fire Girls' camp, some money was donated at the end of the year.

The purpose of the club is the meeting of the girls in order to help worthy charitable activities as well as to carry on social affairs. Officers for the fall semester were president, Doris Sherwood; vice-president, Frances Clements; secretary, Pat Carson; treasurer, Jean Walcott. Those for the spring semester were president, Jane Carter; vice-president, Dorothy Dinubilo; secretary, Mary Glick; treasurer, Maryly Lyons.

RIFLE CLUB

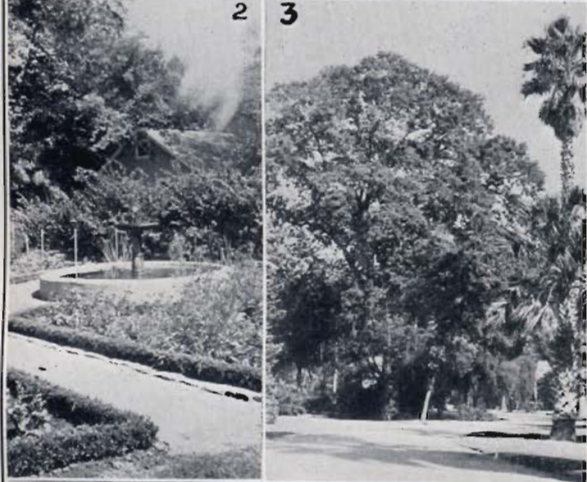

THE Rifle Club is one of the newest in this school. It was organized to "encourage marksmanship as a sport and to give instruction in accurate shooting, care of rifles and safety precautions. The club is in no sense militaristic". The group has the steady following of a small number of boys who are rapidly turning into marksmen of whom the school may well be proud.

Sponsors of the club are Mr. Rogers and Major J. O. Hoskins of the National Guard. Officers of the fall semester were John Hoskins, president; Frank Freitas, secretary. Officers for the spring semester were Bob Weaver, president; John Bowers, vice-president; Dean Clawson, secretary; John Hoskins, range officer. Some of the members and their respective scores were Dean Clawson, 40; John Hoskins, 38; Bob Weaver, 35.

Boys of this club have built a rifle range for their own use in the stable on the other side of the Armory. They are taking a great interest in their club. Watch them. They are going places!

BOYS' SCIENCE CLUB

THE Boys' Science Club, limited to boys who make recommending grades in science, was founded in 1921 and now flourishes with a membership of sixty-five. 1935-36 officers were president, Jack Blinn; vice-president, Dick Daley; secretary-treasurer, Bill Gianelli.

One of the most interesting events in the clubs' program was the liquid air experiments demonstrated by Mr. Sweet, chemistry teacher and sponsor of the club. At other meetings Mr. Kerr talked on Alaska; Mr. Spaford, cadet teacher from the College of the Pacific, talked on linoleum and its manufacture; Mr. Dolahite gave a talk on neon signs; and Professor Jonte of the College of the Pacific showed pictures taken on the annual Death Valley-Boulder Dam excursion.

PHILOPHYSEAN CLUB

IN the fall semester, the Philophysean Club, composed of girls interested in science, studied astronomy. Some planet or other heavenly body was reported on each month. In the spring, electrical experiments were studied with the aid of Mr. Corbett. At the end of the year the annual dinner was held.

The fall semester officers were Doris Sherwood, president; Yolanda Craviotta, vice-president; Barbara Quail, secretary-treasurer; Peggy Beth Trost, program chairman. The spring semester officers were Olive Ross, president; Muriel Mello, vice-president; Betty Smith, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Abbott was the sponsor.

AGRICULTURE CLUBS

TURKEY CLUB

STARTING their sixth year with the turkey project, thirty boys were learning to raise the birds on a commercial scale under the direction of leading turkey growers of the world. Twenty-one boys bought two thousand one hundred eggs, which were hatched on the High School Farm, operated under J. Mitchell Lewis' supervision. There the birds were brooded and developed for the fall holiday market. The Board of Education advances the money for feed, the boys to pay them back later when the returns came in. The club has gained a reputation for putting such high quality turkeys on the Stockton market that last Thanksgiving ex-President Hoover bought one of their birds.

1. Honor Scholarship Privilege Trip
2. Fountain
3. Memorial Oak
4. Santa Claus Is Coming
5. Shakespearean Entrants
6. Hon. Scholarship Conventionites
7. Freshman Stunts

GOLDEN HOOF CLUB

A group of boys, having pooled their funds to buy a flock of pure-bred Rambouillet sheep and fifty ewes, contact leading sheepmen of the valley and learn to solve sheepmen's problems.

BEE CLUB

MEMBERS of the Bee Club own a number of colonies of bees and have outstanding bee men coach them. The Club meets weekly at the night school.

T-SQUARE CLUB

GROWING interest in architecture and engineering drawing encouraged H. G. Bissell, with the aid of a student committee, to organize the T-Square Club in the spring of 1934. Speakers from the faculty, College of the Pacific, and down town firms familiarized the future architects and engineers with the life and work in their respective fields. The new College of the Pacific swimming pool, the Valley Machine and Tool Works, and especially the Port of Stockton wharfs and warehouses were typical and very enlightening studies in architecture and engineering. A booth was sponsored by the club on Sports Carnival Day.

A novel feature of the club is the name T-Square, a very important instrument to the architect and engineer. Other instruments are used in place of the conventional names of officers; thus the president is the Big Triangle; the vice-president, Little Triangle; the secretary-treasurer, Scaler; sergeant-at-arms, Eraser.

Bill McMurray, Lindley Lehmann, and Jimmy Norton were the officers of the fall semester. Bill Barnett, Irving Wong, Le-land Palmer, and Tom Dardis served for the spring semester.

CAMERA CLUB

THE Camera Club is composed of about fifteen boys who are interested in the science of photography. The members are Bud Greenberg, Charles Adams, Fred Tassano, Gilbert Tait, Emerson Mc Kindsay, Charles Miller, Richard Riddell, Harold Dickey, Bill Du Bois, Tom Stockwell, Grant Colliver, Paul Johannaber, Fred Van Dyke, Bob Takahashi, Arthur Neilson, Wayne Bundy, and Graf Knock. The club has not been very active, but they intend to have speakers from town to criticise their photographs from a technical standpoint. The mutual benefit of the Camera Club is the knowledge gained from practice together of a chosen hobby. This general interest offers many points of contrast with other subjects and is especially helpful to students who later may take up almost any kind of scientific or technical work. J. S. Landrum is the sponsor of the Club and believes that its work promotes the cultivation of observation, accuracy, and attention to detail.

PLAYCRAFTERS

THE main activities of the Playcrafters for the past year have been the regular try-outs for membership into the club and an amateur show presented for the members at the Christmas meeting. Officers for the club during the fall semester were president, Clifford Trotter; vice-president, Harold Willis; secretary, Velma McIntire. Those for the spring semester were president, Jack Holmes; vice-president, Rowena Satterberg; secretary, Phyllis Grimshaw.

CALENDAR

September 4—2823 register at Stockton High, 524 incoming freshmen. Cliff Trotter, new student body president, and Jean Crary, Girls' League president, take charge. Sept. 9—New band uniforms displayed. Sept. 18—Student controls appointed by Betty Clark and Sherwood Norton, first vice-president and commissioner of welfare. Sept. 14—Tarzans defeat Burlingame 20-0; Sept. 20—San Mateo 19-0; and Sept. 27—Sacred Heart 14-0, in football contests.

October 2—Prospective graduates number 172. Student dances start. Oct. 9—First night rally held at Fox California. Oct. 12—Staff attends Modesto J. C. press convention. Oct. 16—Arthur Bull, alias Francisco, does magic tricks. Oct. 26—Delegates go to press convention at Stanford. Oct. 30—Students celebrate Safety Week. San Jose defeated by Stockton 22-7. Special train carries rooters to see Tarzans trounce Sacramento High 26-6.

November 2—Honor Scholarship holds convention at Stockton. Nov. 8—Armistice program in auditorium. Nov. 14—385 Christmas boxes sent to Guam. Nov. 19—Floats, bands parade at night for Lodi game rally. Nov. 20—"Growing Pains" chosen 12A play; 22 seniors sign for parts. Nov. 22—Rejoicing students have Thanksgiving vacation. Tarzan victories over Modesto 25-0, and Fresno 6-0, fail to lessen shock of awful defeat by Lodi Flames 21-7.

December 4—Students hear Stock Exchange personnel head, Cameron Beck. Classical Club holds Roman banquet. Dec. 6—Jacqueline Duke gives program, with Pacific A Capella choir. Dec. 12—President Knoles, of College of the Pacific, speaks at assembly for awarding Honor Scholarship certificates. Dec. 17—Seniors have banquet in girls' gymnasium. Dec. 20—Two-weeks vacation relief to students. Tarzans gain three victories and receive two defeats as start of basketball season.

January 8—Students hear traffic officials on careful driving. Jan. 15—48 candidates for office. Jan. 17—Dick Daley, Bill McMurray to run again for president. Jan. 22—Bill McMurray elected president, Betty Clark, Girls' League president. Jan. 24—"Growing Pains" is great success. Jan. 30—177 seniors graduate. Stockton defeats Woodland 40-20, Jan. 10; Sacramento, 37-11, Jan. 17; Lodi, 26-18, Jan. 23; and St. Mary's, 27-19, Jan. 29. Games lost to

CALENDAR

Broadway Clowns, St. Mary's, and Stanford Frosh.

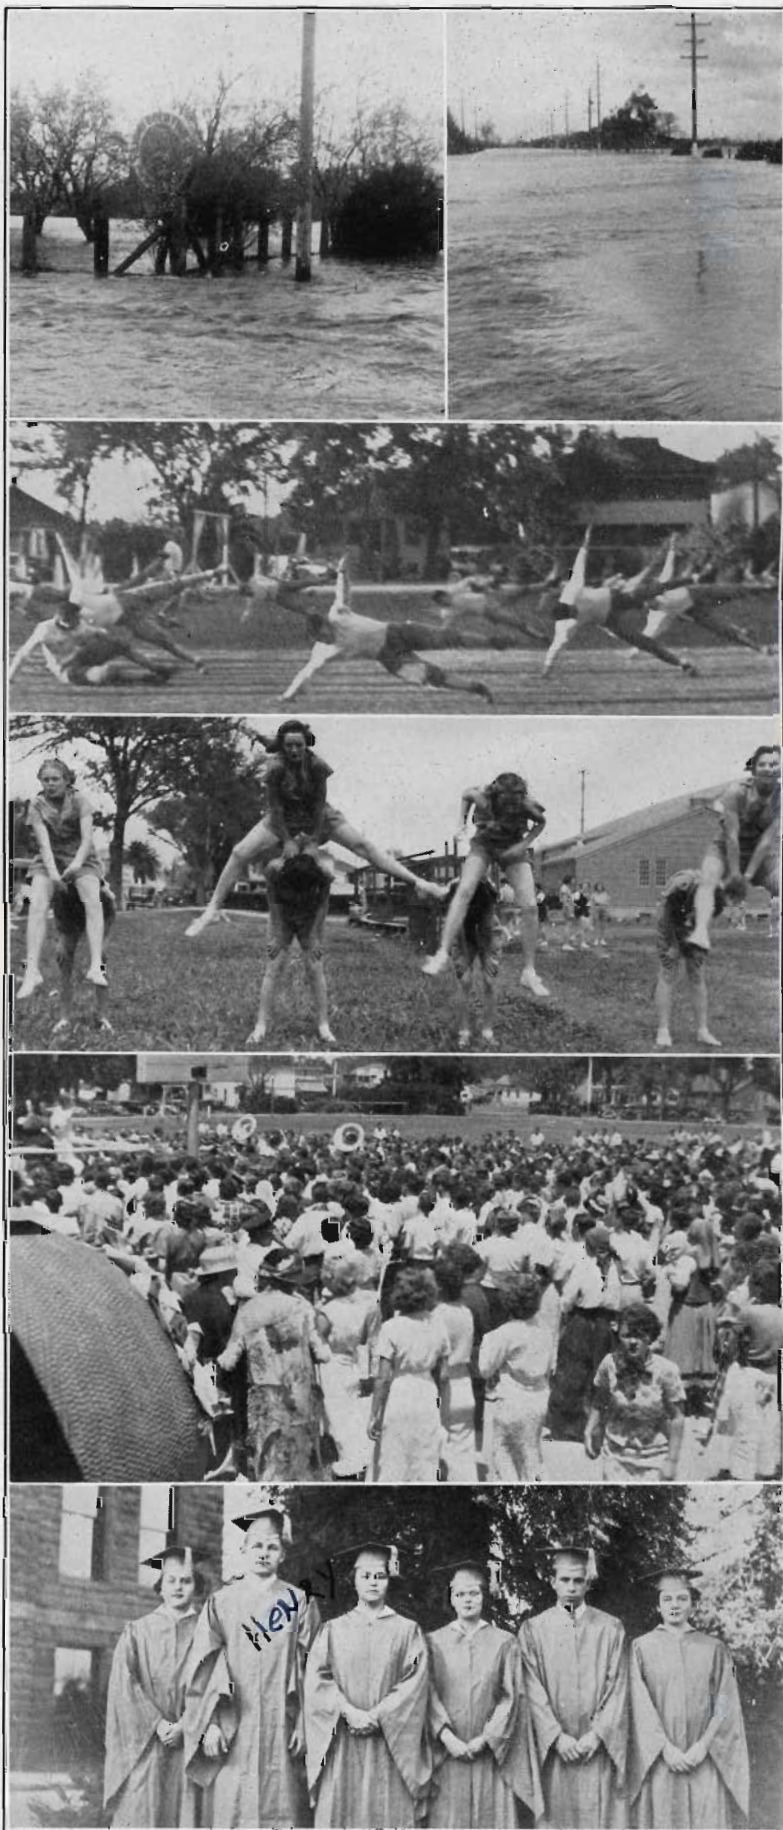

February 5—School President, Girls' League head welcome 820 freshmen. Feb. 12—Student speakers, Troubadours present Washington-Lincoln program. Feb. 14—Antoinette Tague gives 10c program. Pan-Pacific Club holds banquet. Feb. 19—101 members in Honor Scholarship. Feb. 28—Geoffrey Morgan speaks. Stockton wins all games in month, defeating Sacramento J. C., 48-28 on Feb. 1 and on Feb. 7, Woodland 35-19. Feb. 14, Sacramento High 31-14. Feb. 15, Modesto 32-17, and Lodi 36-25, Feb. 21.

March—Guard and Tackle has fortieth birthday. Mar. 13—Bill Tilden speaks. Mar. 20—44 Honor Scholarship members attend convention at U. C. Mar. 25—Kenneth Strickfaden gives electrical demonstration. Mar. 27, 28—Staff attends annual U. C. press conference. Mar. 29—Music department presents Easter Oratorio. 54 sign for senior play. Tarzans gain basketball victory over Sutter Creek, are defeated by Manteca, Mar. 7 and 13. Frosh top annual interclass track meet. Track team takes second, Mar. 18, at Modesto.

April 2—Masculine, Feminine revue is given, Aileen Boulter and Leslie Knoles chosen queen and king by enthusiastic crowd. Apr. 3—13 Students enjoy week's rest with Easter as excuse. Apr. 15—Eloise Smith and Lloyd Goeppert chosen for Shakespearean Contest in Modesto. Apr. 23—Pacific presents variety program. Apr. 30—Open House night brings parents to High School. Spring Training held for football candidates. U. C. Frosh defeat swimming team and track team. Tennis stars annex C. I. F. Sectional title.

May 7—Vocational department has program. Band and Orchestra give annual concert. May 11—Student Council undertakes program for student-body. May 15—Senior play, "It Never Rains", enthusiastically received. May 16—Stockton Music department shares annual festival at Turlock. May 22—Juniors and Seniors plan Senior Prom at Philomathean Club House.

June 4—First school annual for four years issued. June 5—Spring Carnival great day; Guard and Tackle puts out special Razz Issue. June 10—Seniors hold Class Day in auditorium. June 11—Commencement exercises for over 400 graduates.

GUESS WHO

—Don Stine

POST OFFICE