If, gentle reader, you've heard these jokes before
If from their lack of fun they seem to bore,
Don't groan, don't quit, but patient be and stick to it;—
Here and there a spicy one may move to gentle roar.

—Irene McGuire.

Latin Scholars

Latin scholars there are few

In our class of pupils ten.

Verbs and nouns there are galore,

And synonyms for choice, and then,

There's Caesar's Wars—such themes for girls,—

And Cicero's speeches—orations fine;

But who that lives in these, our days,

Cares just one rap for aught in that line!

—Catherine Lynn, '28.

OUR 1926 SONG

(With apologies to the author)

Shingle belles, Shingle belles,
Shingle all the way;
All the shops are busy—
It's the newest fad today.

Shingle belles, Shingle belles,
Right close to your dome.
Oh! what fun it is to know
There's that much less to comb.

E. Davey.
